Intersections of Student-Centered Equity and Interrupting Colonial Practices

Culturally Responsive Teaching & The Brain

Book Study/Working Group

Alternating Thursdays beginning Feb. 15
4:00-6:00pm • Via Zoom

Facilitators: Cassandra Hayes, Mo Harper Desir & Michael Gibson

Join us for this 7-part series as we read, study and implement the brain-based teaching framework outlined in Zaretta Hammonds' book Culturally Responsive Teaching and the Brain: Promoting Authentic Engagement and Rigor Among Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Students.

We will begin with a book study for 4 sessions and conclude with working groups for 3 sessions.
