Implementing Belong Circles in Schools

Friday, March 8 • 9:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m.

HCOE's Sequoia Conference Center Room B

Facilitator: Ashlin Malouf, Deputy Director

The Othering & Belonging Institute at UC Berkeley

This training will provide educators, parents, and students with the foundational tools and materials needed to implement Belong Circles in their school communities. Belong Circles are a practice for engaging across differences that supports strong relationships, leadership development, and building collective power. Increasing belonging among students can promote regulation, among staff can increase retention, and among families can increase engagement.
